

LoLTalk: Hello! Who is this again?
> John
LoLTalk: Hi John! Nice to talk to you again! :D Have you been playing more LoL?
John: of course!
LoLTalk: Awesome! What champion do you usually play as? :P
John: right now its diana
LoLTalk: Diana is a new champion to me but she is a really fun one! I like using her in the twisted treeline or in the jungle. She snowballs out of control if she gets those early kills xD Would you like any advice on playing that Champion?
John: yes please
LoLTalk: Thanks! So what sort of advice would you like? A build strategy? Or maybe some tips on playstyle?
John: how about an item build?
LoLTalk: Diana may look like an AP carry but she is quite unique compared to the standard AP build :P I would advise you build between a bruiser and AP carry items. That means after you build the doran blade you should rush items such as the Rod of Ages and the Abyssal Scepter. Because of this you can even send her to farm in the jungle!
John: good advice! thanks
LoLTalk: You're welcome! :) Thanks! Any champions you've been playing with?
John: well i've been using draven
LoLTalk: Oh so you play Draven! I LOVE DRAVEN! :D He can really only be played as an ADC. Would you like any advice on playing that Champion?
John: sure
LoLTalk: =) So what sort of advice would you like? A build strategy? Or maybe some tips on playstyle?
John: how about some tips this time
LoLTalk: Trying to catch his spinning axes may seem difficult, but the trick is if you don't move after throwing one it will land near you or directly on top of you! :)
John: oh alright i'll do that
LoLTalk: Any champions you've been playing with?
John: can you give me advice on how to play ashe?
LoLTalk: Ashe is an ADC, as such you'd simply build attack damage items. She benefits most with critical strike damage so you should rush the infinity edge after starting off with some doran blades. Afterwards get your Phantom Dancer. Oh and don't forget your boots! :)
John: i have nothing to say!
LoLTalk: What are you talking about? Forget that :P Don't you want to talk about LoL?
John: yes sorry
LoLTalk: What champion do you usually play as? :P
John: nothing
LoLTalk: Huh? Was that topic about LoL?
John: yes
LoLTalk: Any champions you've been playing with?
John: Alistar
LoLTalk: Alistar eh? He's a very strong cow :P He's actually one of my most favorite supports! Glad you brought him up! Would you like any advice on playing that Champion?
John: sure why not
LoLTalk: Cool! So what sort of advice would you like? A build strategy? Or maybe some tips on playstyle?
John: how do you build him?
LoLTalk: Alistar is a great support! Generally I would build pure support items starting with a Philosopher's stone and then a Heart of Gold before building aura granting items. However you can also build him pure tank just rush a Sheen and go straight for tank items! Powerful!

John: thanks!

LoLTalk: You're welcome! :) What champion do you usually play as? :P

John: i actually have to go. Goodbye!

LoLTalk: Nice talking with you! See you!
